THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

I do solemnly swear . . .
by that which I hold most sacred . . .
that I will be loyal to the profession of medicine . . .
and just and generous to its members . . .
that I well lead my life . . .
and practice my art . . .
in uprighteousness and honor . . .
that into whatsoever house I shall enter . . .
it shall be for the good of the sick . . .
to the utmost of my power . . .
I holding myself aloof from wrong . . . from corruption . . .
from the tempting of others to vice . . .
that I will exercise my art . . .
solely for the cure of my patients . . .
and will give no drug . . . perform no operation . . .
for a criminal purpose . . . even if solicited . . .
far less suggest it . . .
that whatsoever I shall see or hear . . .
of the lives of men . . . which is not fitting to be spoken . . .
I will keep inviolably secret . . .
these things I do promise . . .
and in proportion as I am faithful to this my oath . . .
may happiness and good repute be ever mine . . .
the opposite if I shall be foresworn.

FOREWORD

When a young man or woman determines to strive for a medical or paramedical career the undertaking is frequently hazardous and difficult. As will be evident when you peruse this book, it has been designed to give the most coverage to those now completing their formal medical training, and to the individuals playing an important part in helping them reach this goal. I doubt seriously that anyone has ever achieved the goal we now have reached without the dedicated help, love, and understanding of parents, wives, and friends. It is impossible in the scope of this book to include and properly pay tribute to those meaning so much to our careers. We pray to God that the inspiration they have instilled will make us ever conscious of the responsibility we now accept for all mankind.

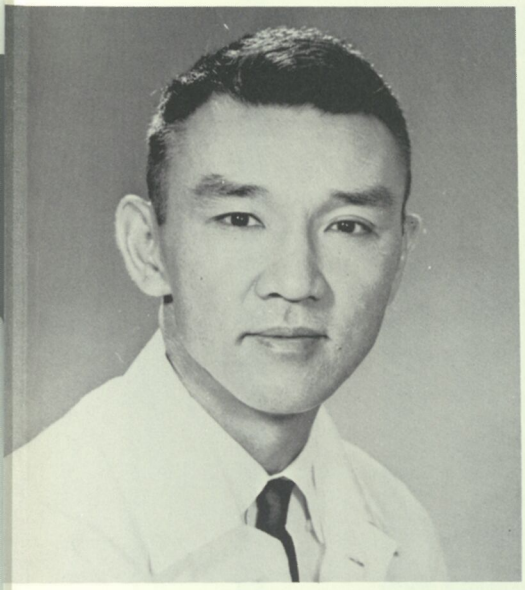
CADUCEUS 1964

DEDICATION



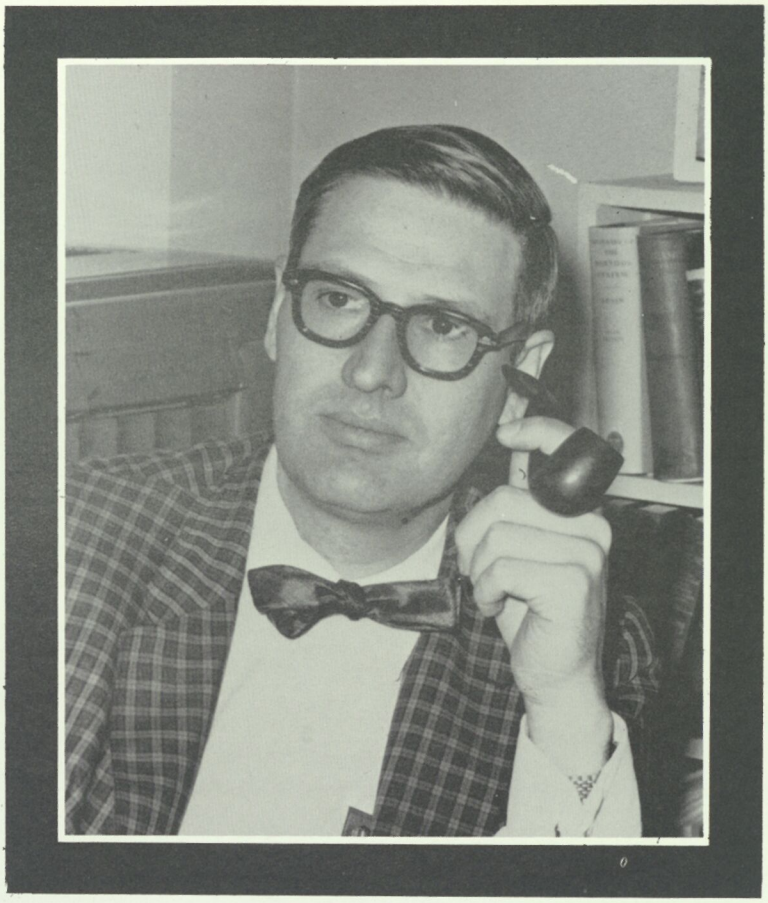
It is with pride and honor that the Senior Class of the School of Medicine has chosen to dedicate its section of the 1964 Caduceus to Dr. MASAUKI HARA, Professor of Surgery. During his years at the University Dr. Hara has inspired each of us to reach into, and recognize, the depth of our ability. He exposes the Junior Student, for the first time, to the exacting questions he must continually be prepared to answer if he is to be an honest physician. His integrity and devotion to his profession are a standard that each of us should try to attain.

The Students in the School of Pharmacy have chosen to dedicate their portion of the Yearbook to Mrs. Gloria Baldridge. She has given to us an example, not only by the way she performs her duties of teaching, but the excellence with which she practices the Profession of Pharmacy. Mrs. Baldridge commands the respect of every student and she's the "helping hand" to all Seniors. Admired by students and teachers alike, Mrs. Baldridge is truly a credit to the Pharmaceutical Profession.

We the students of the School of Nursing wish to dedicate our portion of the yearbook to Miss Dorothy Lamb, Assistant Professor of Nursing, Medical-Surgical Nursing. Viewed in the light of her example, nursing has gained a more comprehensive scope. We give appreciation for her patience and willingness to give long hours of work in an effort to help mold each student into a good nurse.

IN ME

DAVID W. SINTON, M.D.



"No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a part be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friends or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

John Donne

MORIAM

HENRY "HODGE" KIRBY, M.D.

Though death took him one year short of his goal our remembrance of him will serve as an inspiration and our art will be enriched for having known him. He is our colleague through eternity.

"My congratulations to the graduates of the various schools at the University of Arkansas Medical Center. You are embarking on careers at a time when medical and related scientific services are increasingly in demand by the general public. I hope that all of you—whether graduating this year or later—will find a rewarding career here in Arkansas. As your state moves forward and prepares for tomorrow, we need your help, your scientific skills, your ideas, and enthusiasms. The best of luck to all of you as you enter new stages of your training or work."

Most sincerely,

Orval E. Faubus

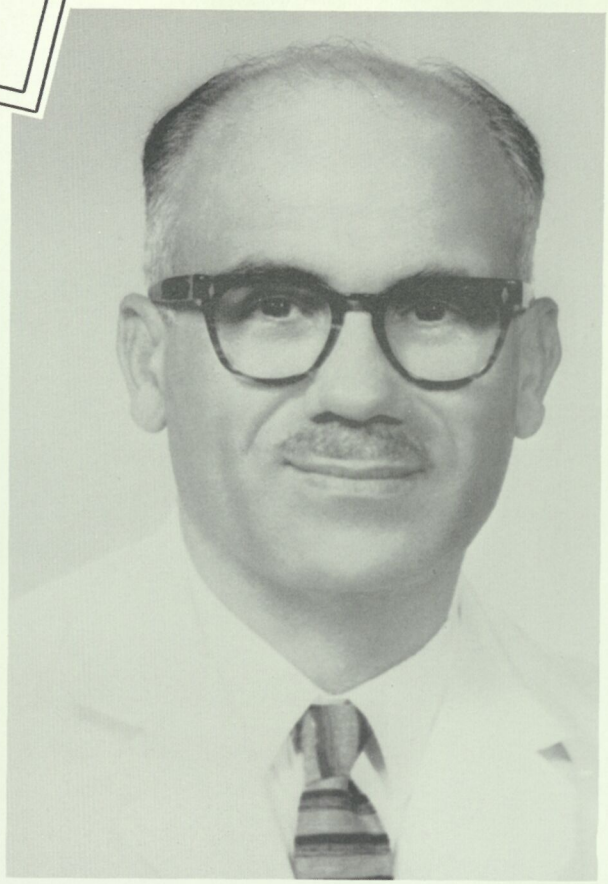
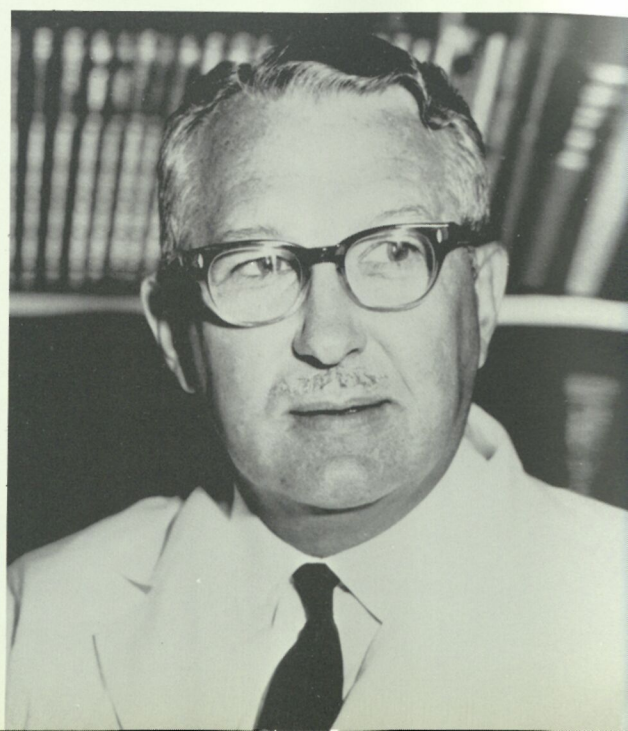
PEDIATRICS

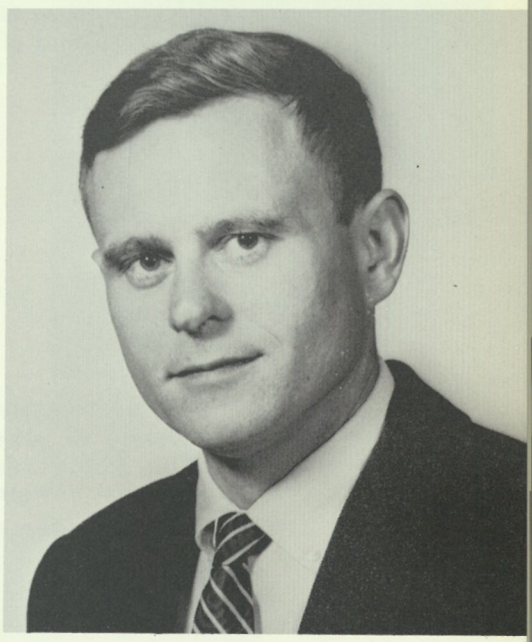


THEODORE C. PANOS, Professor and Head of the Department of Pediatrics, is one of the best known Pediatricians in the country. His residency program is one of the finest anywhere. He is a former Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Texas, and is a national consultant in Pediatrics for the U. S. Air Force. He is primarily responsible for the tremendous increase in size and scope of the Pediatric Staff.



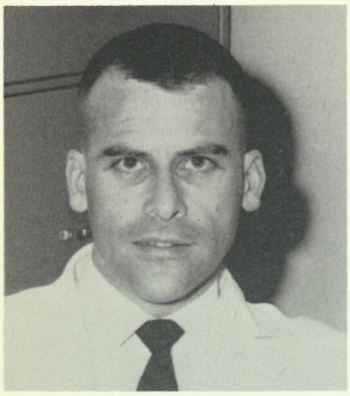
JAMES L. DENNIS, Associate Dean of Clinical Affairs and Professor of Pediatrics. He is a graduate from the University of Oklahoma with his residency training from the University of Texas. He is an official examiner of the American Board of Pediatrics; Secretary, Section on Pediatrics, AMA; and member, Joint Committee, Pediatric Research, Education and Practice, U.S.A. He has been with the UAMC since August of '63.

ALICE GAMBLE BEARD, Associate Professor of Pediatrics, in charge of newborn service and neonatal records. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota School of Medicine, with residency training at the University of Texas, Galveston branch. She has an NIHA grant for the study of neonatal stress in the premature infant.



F. STANLEY PORTER, Jr., Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, formerly associated with Dr. Louis Diamond at Boston Children's Hospital. He supervises the care and study of children under the program of the Southwest Cooperative Cancer Chemotherapy Commission. His candid comments on rounds will be treasured memories for most Seniors.

FLORENCE CHAR, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics. She is a graduate of State University, New York, with residency training at the University of Minnesota School of Medicine. Her Fellowship in Cardiology was also at the University of Minnesota. Her special area at the UAMC is in neonatal electrocardiography.

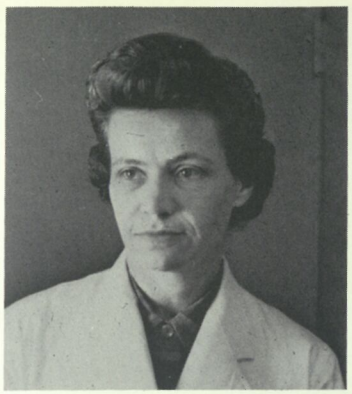


DELBERT A. FISHER, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics and Assistant Director of the Clinical Study Center. He is a graduate of the University of California School of Medicine. He was a Fellow of Pediatric Endocrinology and Metabolism, Univ. of Oregon. His special interests are pituitary and thyroid function and water and electrolyte metabolism.

EDWIN ROSS HUGHES, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics and Pathology, is a graduate of the University of Utah School of Medicine, and a former Research Fellow, Brookhaven National Laboratory. He is a diplomate, American Board of Pediatrics.

ROSALIND ABERNATHY, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics. The University of Arkansas has both members of this family. Her husband is Associate Professor of Medicine. She has special interest in Allergy, and conducts the Pediatric Allergy Clinic.

WILLIAM E. POTTS, Instructor, Department of Pediatrics. His special interest is in Tuberculosis and Histoplasmosis in the Pediatric age group.



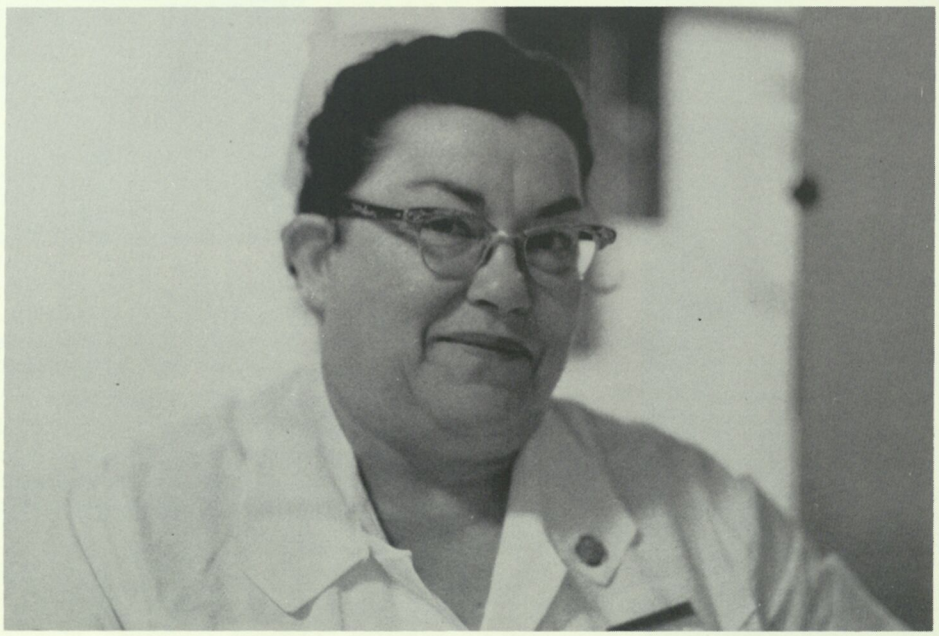
JEAN HUNTER, M.D., is an instructor in the Department of Pediatrics. She is a graduate of the U.A.M.C.

EDNA SWAFFORD
Secretary to Dr. Dennis

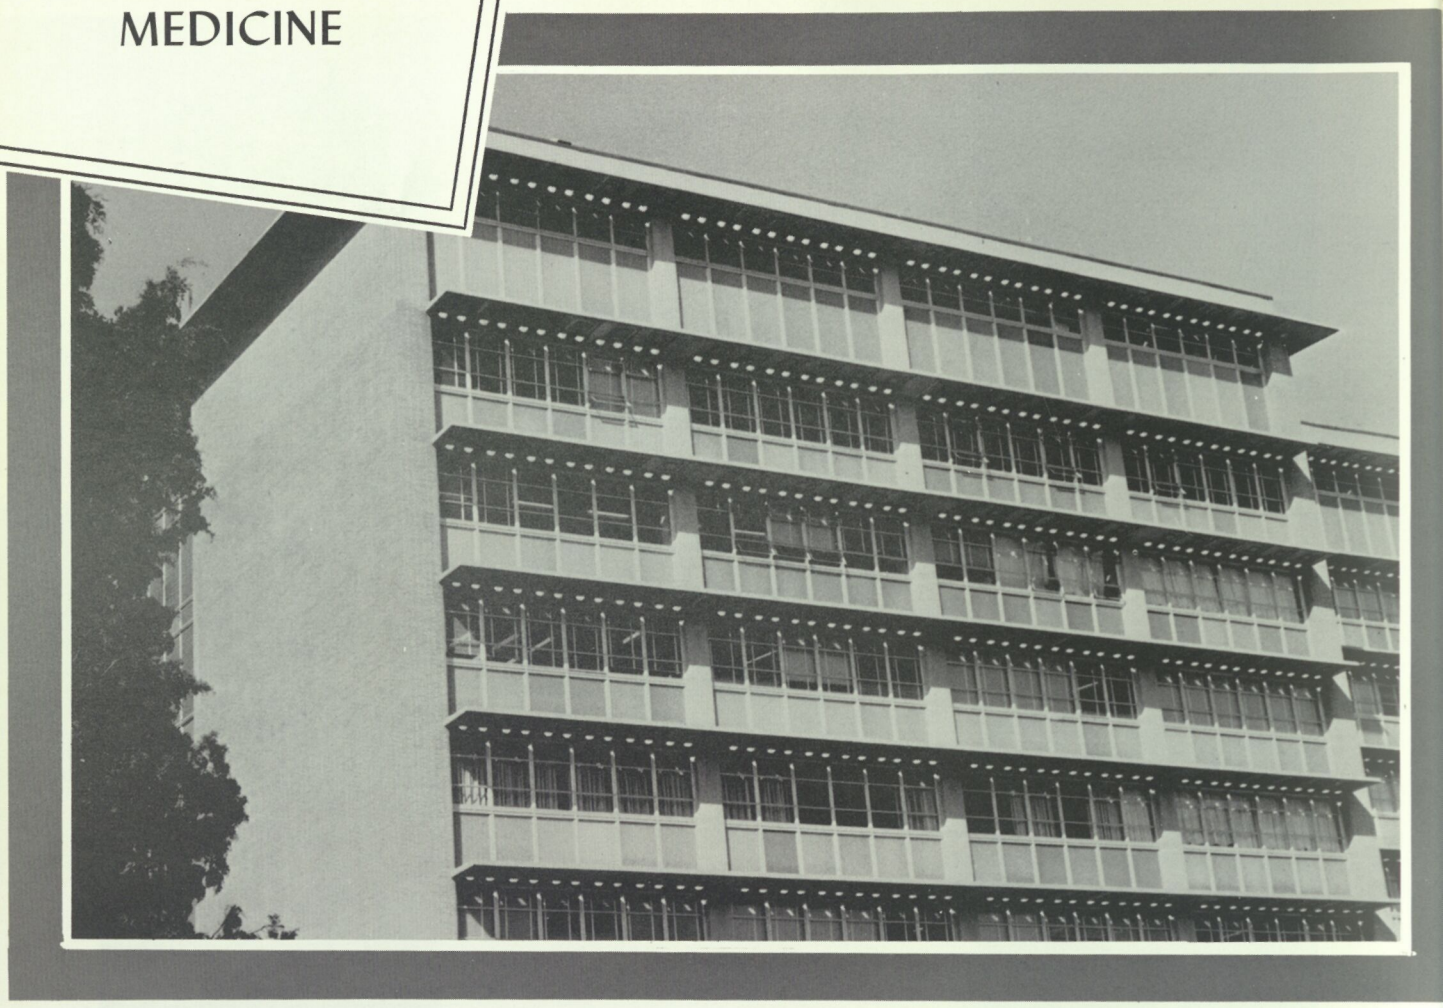
D. H. BERRY, M.D., Instructor in the Department of Pediatrics, is also a graduate of the U.A.M.C. Her special interest is in hematology.

MARY LOU WEINTRAUB
Clinic Secretary

JO HERRING, R.N.
Pediatrics Clinic, her special interest is for the students' welfare.

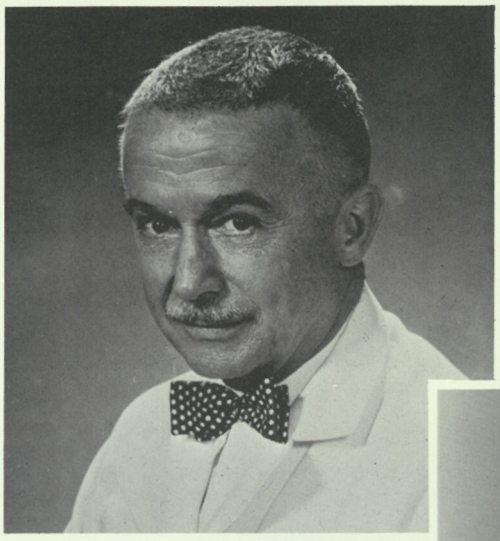


MEDICINE



UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS MEDICAL RESEARCH BUILDING

RICHARD V. EBERT, Professor and Head, Department of Medicine. He is a Member of the Study Committee for the National Heart Institute; Member of the National TB Association Subcommittee on Chronic Respiratory diseases and a Member of two National Veterans Administration Committees. He is engaged in extensive research in Cardiopulmonary physiology and biochemistry of the lung. He is president-elect, Central Society for Clinical Research. He received the distinguished service award from the U. of Chicago Alumni Association and a Commendation from the Veterans Administration. He has been with the University since 1954.

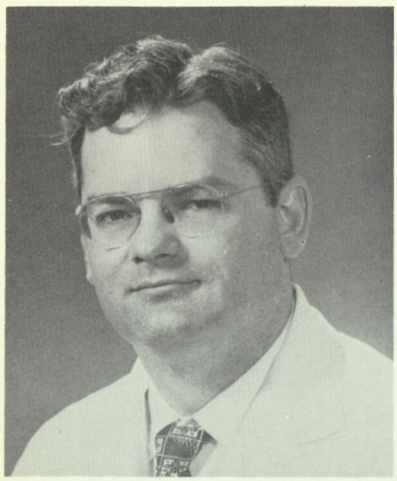


JAMES S. TAYLOR, Professor of Medicine. He was chief of cardiology at Walter Reed Hospital prior to coming to Arkansas in 1952. He is the past Governor for Arkansas, American College of Cardiology. He is a member of American College of physicians.

JOHN T. RIGGIN, Associate Dean and Associate Professor of Medicine. He is in charge of academic affairs, internships, student fellowships and preceptorships. He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and received his residency from Johns Hopkins.

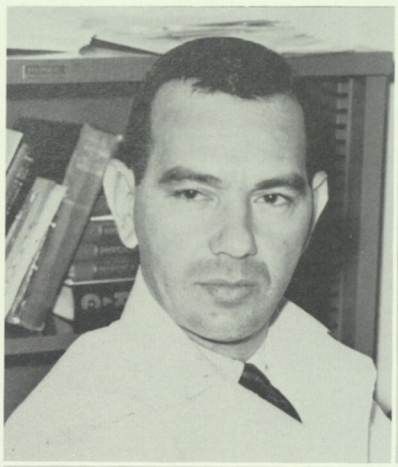
ROBERT S. ABERNATHY, Associate Professor of Medicine and Microbiology and is an expert in the field of infectious diseases and has made an extensive study of fungus diseases.

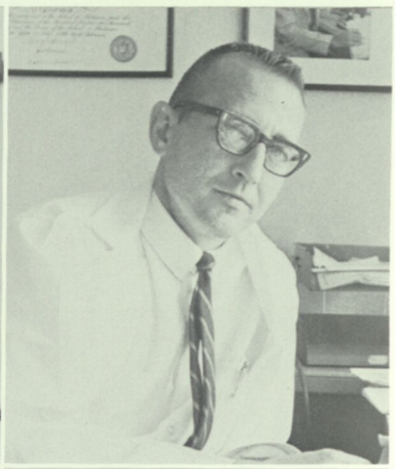
JOHN A. PIERCE, Associate Professor of Medicine and director of the Cardiopulmonary Research Laboratory. He is a graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine and is an investigator for the Arkansas Heart Association. He has been with the University since 1964.



(left) KERRISON JUNIPER, JR., M.D., Associate Professor of Medicine, has special interest in gallstone formation and gastric secretion. U.S.P.H.S. Post-Doctoral Fellow in gastroenterology.

(right) ARTHUR HAUT, M.D., Associate Professor of Medicine and head of the section of hematology. He received his M.D. from Columbia University and his internship and residency training from Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. He also trained with Dr. M. M. Wintrobe, Salt Lake City, Utah.





(left) GEORGE L. ACKERMAN, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine and assistant director of the clinical study center. He is a graduate of the UAMC and a former resident of this hospital. He is an authority on renal physiology.

(right) JOSEPH FLANIGAN, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine and Director of the Clinical Research Center. He is a graduate of the UAMC. He is a former research Fellow of the biophysical lab of Harvard. He is presently engaged in projects dealing with kidney transplantation.

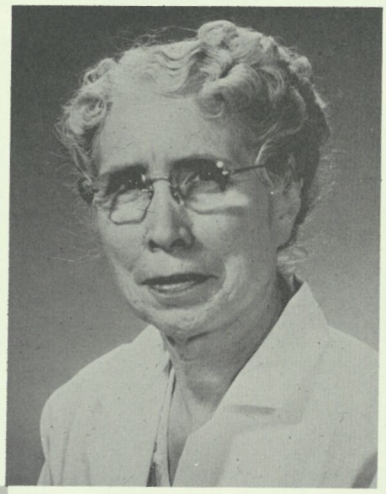
(left) LOUIS L. SANDERS, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine, and assistant director of the Clinical Study Center. He is a graduate of the U.A.M.C. His projects concern endocrinology.

(right) COY D. FITCH, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine and Biochemistry, is a graduate and former resident of U.A.M.C.

ROBERT T. BULLOCH, M.D., is a graduate and former resident of the U.A.M.C. His special interest is in diagnostic Cardiology.

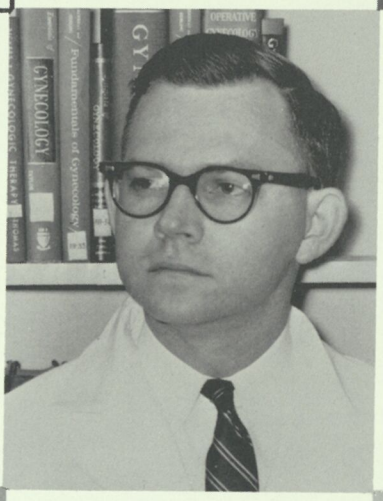
C. DOWELL PATTERSON, M.D., is an instructor in Medicine and a graduate of the University of Arkansas. His special interest is in respiratory physiology.

WILLIS E. BROWN, Professor and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, in 1943. Has held teaching appointments in the Universities of Michigan, Nebraska, Iowa and Arkansas. Became head of Department at University of Arkansas in 1949. First Vice-President of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.



EVA F. DODGE, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, was educated at the University of Maryland and spent one year at the University of Vienna. Following this she served as Professor of Obstetrics at Women's Medical College, Shanghai, China.

OB-GYN

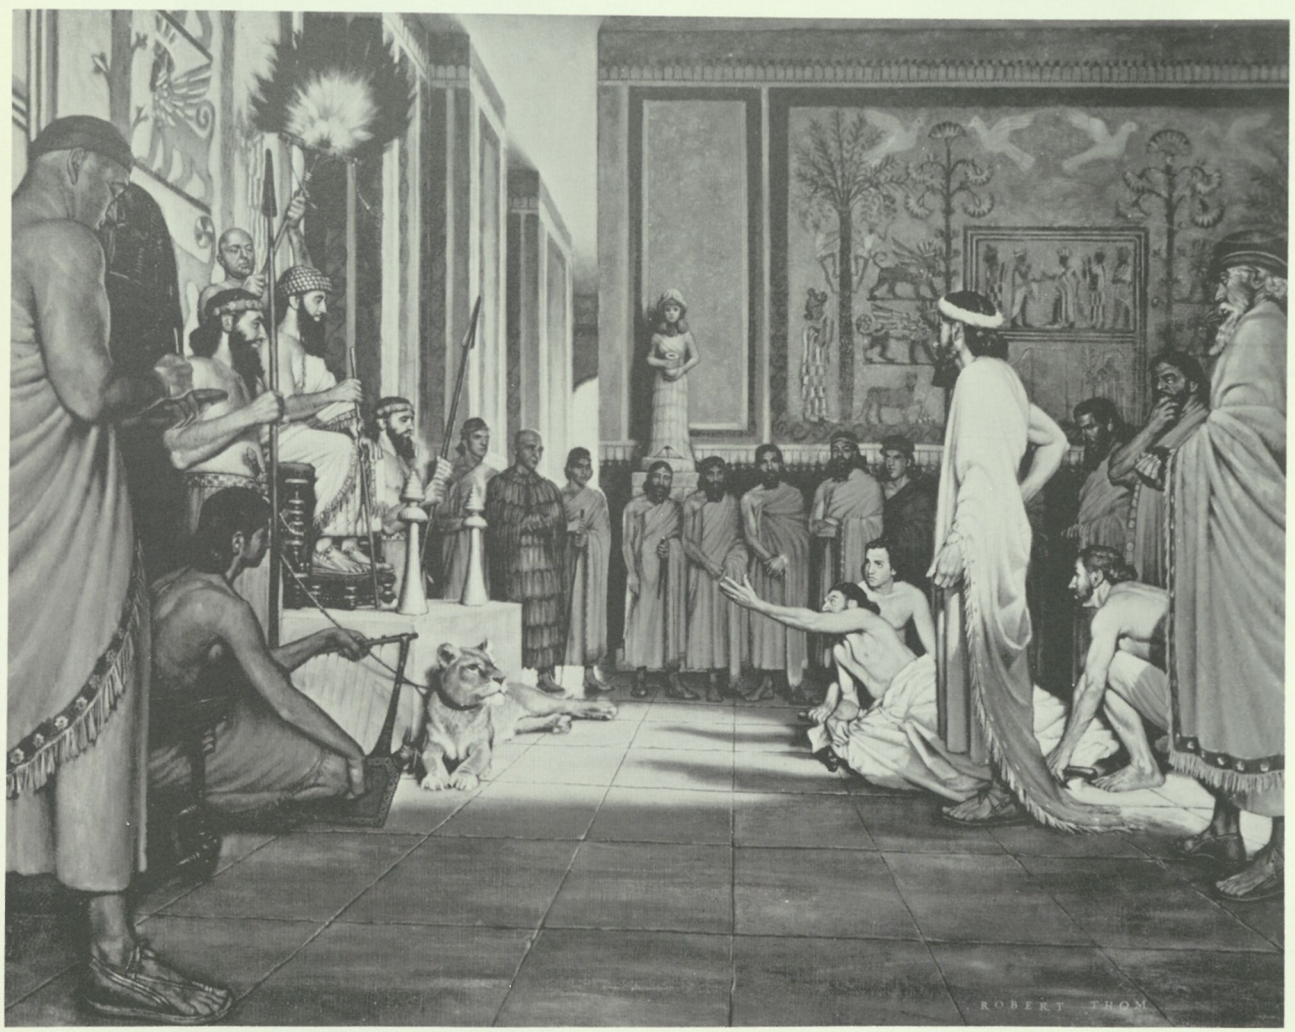


JOHN B. NETTLES, Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Mend Coordinator. He is a graduate of the Medical College of South Carolina. He did special training in Pathology, Medical College of Georgia.

STEWART A. FISH, Associate Professor, Obstetrics and Gynecology. Member of the committee on Blood Banks and Medical Education. Graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, 1949. Recognized by American College of Surgeons, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

BYRON L. HAWKS, Associate Professor of Dept. of Obstetrics and Gynecology. His duties are many and varied. Graduate of Duke University and New York University School of Medicine.

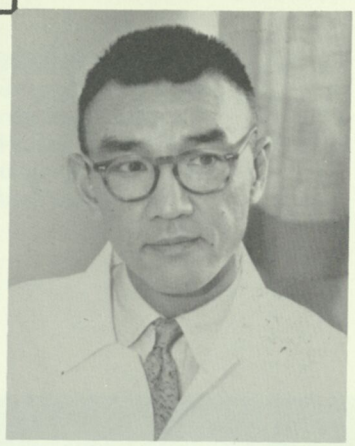
... but, ... but, Dr. Brown, I swear I'll never let another patient BIB



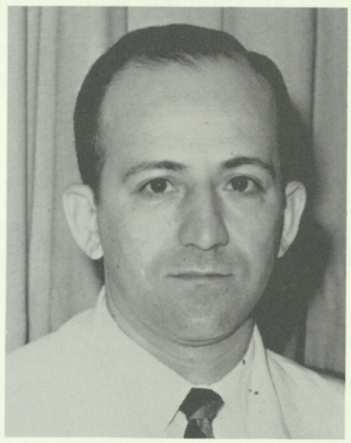
SURGERY

JAMES HAROLD GROWDEN, Professor and Head, is a graduate of Washington University with training at Barnes Hospital and Ellis Fischel State Cancer Hospital.

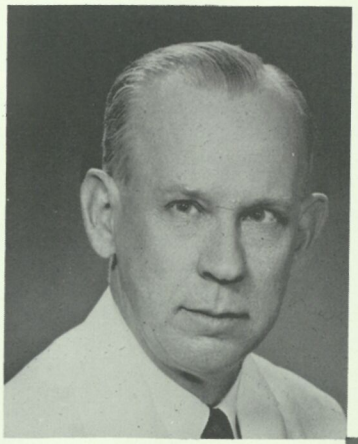
MASAUKI HARA, Professor of Surgery, is a graduate of Stanford University and has specialized in cardiovascular surgery.



BENJAMIN W. DROMPP, Prof. and Head, Div. of Orthopedic surgery and Chief of Orthopedics L.R.V.A. He is a graduate of Wayne State University and an examiner for the American Board of Orthopedic surgery. He has been with the University for two years.



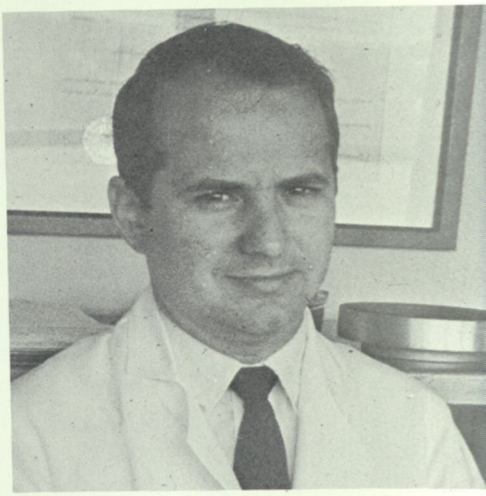
THOMAS M. FLETCHER, Assistant Professor of surgery, is the first U.A.M.C. full-time staff neurosurgeon. He has had considerable training at the Neurological Institute of New York.



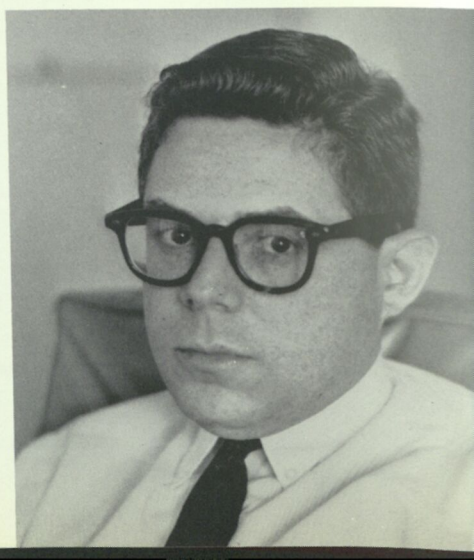
CECIL W. SHAFER, Professor and head of the Department of Anesthesiology, is studying the effects of hypothermia on fetal circulation.

SAMUEL T. JONES, Associate Professor and Head, Div. of Opthalmology, is a graduate of Tulane, with post-graduate training at the University of Pennsylvania.

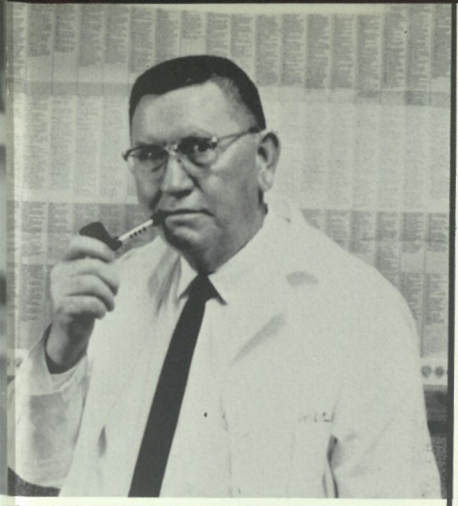
RUITSON OUYANG, a graduate of National Taiwan University College of Medicine, is an instructor in Neurology. His first year of residency was spent at Albany Medical Center, Albany, New York, and his second and third years at Detroit Receiving Hospital, Michigan. He is a member of the American Academy of Neurology.



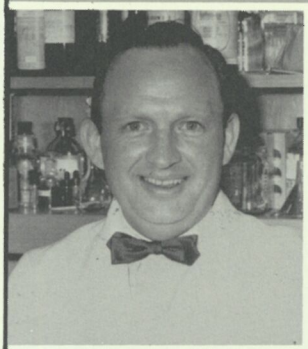
J. H. BORNHOFEN, Pediatric Neurologist, received his M.D. from Stritch School of Medicine, Loyola University, Chicago. He interned at the University of Minnesota and also completed his residencies in neurology and pediatrics at that institution. He has been project director of the Collaborative Study for Cerebral Palsy of the N.I.N.D.B., National institutes of Health, University of Minnesota.



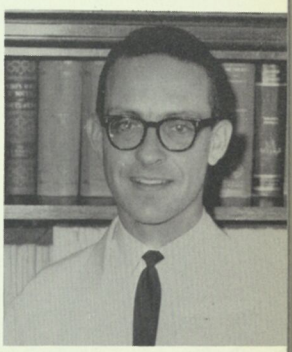
DONALD H. PELLAR, is an Assistant Professor of the Department of Neurology. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago School of Medicine, and interned at Charity Hospital, New Orleans, Louisiana. At the Mao Foundation he was a Fellow in the Department of Neurology and the Department of Neurophysiology. His special interest is in the interpretation of electroencephalography.



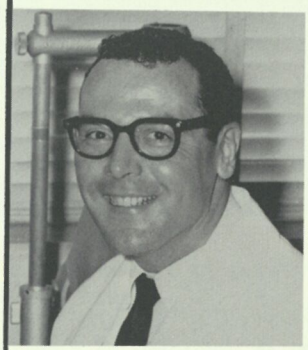
CARL E. DUFFY, Professor and Head of the Department of Microbiology. He has made several outstanding discoveries concerning behavioral patterns of experimental animals which have recovered from early neonatal viral infections. His subject is well presented and is easily the most organized material presented during the pre-clinical years.



JOHN H. CROSS, Assistant Professor, teaches microbiology and parasitology, and is engaged in the study of host parasite relationships.



ROBERT E. BOWLING, Assistant Professor of Microbiology, studying the effects of hypothermia on resistance to infection. He is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma.



RAYMOND K. BOWER, Assistant Professor of Microbiology from the University of Oklahoma. He is doing research work on host-cell-virus relationships with the Rous sarcoma virus.

RUTH V. JARMON, Instructor in Microbiology.

HORACE NEWELL MARVIN, Professor of Anatomy and Chairman of the Department. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He is a Ph.D. with special interest in Biophysical Cytology and Radioisotopes. He was a visiting Professor, University Lagos Medical School, Nigeria, in 1963. He has grants from the NIH, National Research Council and AEC.

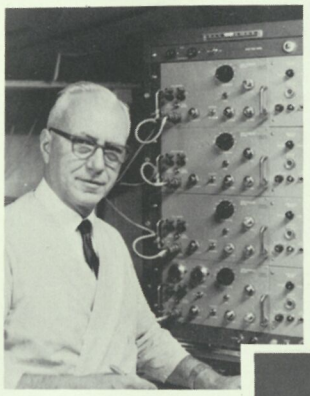
WILLIAM CLEAVER LANGSTON, Professor Emeritus, is a graduate of the University of Iowa and an honorary degree, LL.D., from the University of Arkansas. He was full time with the University from 1930-1957.

JEROME K. SHERMAN, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Department of Anatomy. His special training was in cell biology and he is in charge of Microanatomy. He is a graduate of Brown University, an M.S. from Western Reserve, and his Ph.D. from State University of Iowa. He received the Laderle Medical Faculty Award, 1961-64. He is chairman of the honors research program.

ROBERT C. HOLLAND, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Anatomy, has been with the University now for three years. He is currently acting chairman of the Department. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He is a research Fellow, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

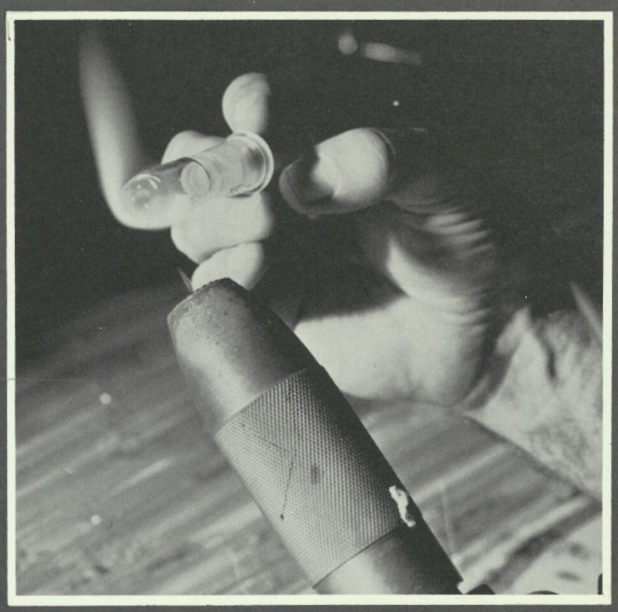
HOWARD K. SUZUKI, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Anatomy, has been beseiged with illness this year but is expected to resume full activity in gross anatomy in the coming year. Bone metabolism and neonatal anatomy are his research projects.

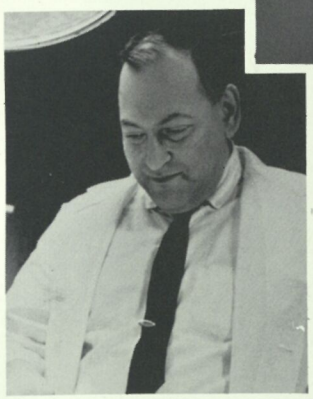
JOE G. WOOD, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of the Department of Anatomy. He holds a B.S. and M.S. from the University of Houston, and his Ph.D. from the University of Texas, Medical Branch. From 1962-63 he served as an instructor in Anatomy at Yale University School of Medicine. He is a member of the AAAS, Sigma Xi, and the American Association of Anatomist.



LLOYD D. SEAGER, M.D., Professor and Head Department of Pharmacology (left), is also secretary of the Executive Council. He is a graduate of St. Louis University School of Medicine. He is studying the mechanism of centrally induced pulmonary edema.

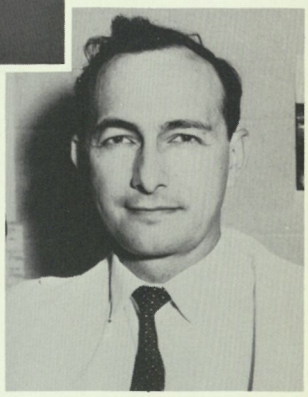
CALVIN HANNA, (right) Associate Professor of Pharmacology, is a graduate of State University of Iowa and a consultant to the USPHS.

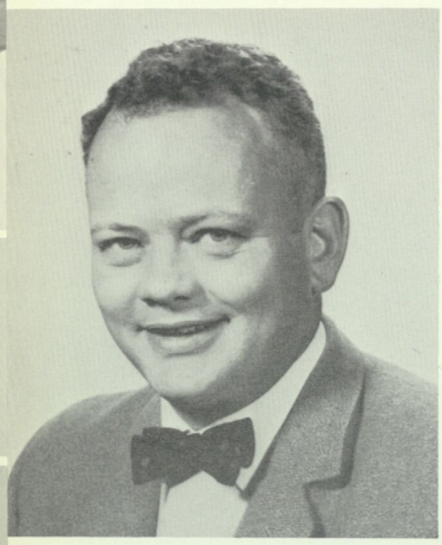




JOSEPH E. STONE, (left) Associate Professor of Pharmacology was with the Veterans Research Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, prior to coming to the University of Arkansas. He is doing a biochemical investigation of nucleic acid antimetabolites.

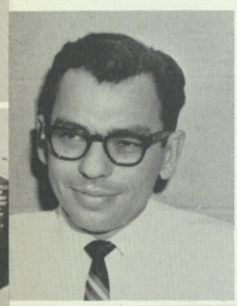
CHARLES D. WOOD, (right) Assistant Professor of Pharmacology, is a neurophysiologist and pharmacologist. He has published several monographs.





JOHN E. WHITNEY, Professor and Head, Department of Physiology. His degrees include an A.B. from the University of California, and also an M.A. and Ph.D. from that school. He also holds a Ph.D. from Cambridge University, England, in Biochemistry. His research area concerns glucose uptake stimulating activity in tumors and the effect of insulin on glucose metabolism. He has been with the University since 1956.

KENNETH A. AUSLEBROOK, Assistant Professor, Department of Physiology. He holds a B.A. from Wabash College, and an M.S. and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. He is currently engaged in research concerning antidiuretic hormones and intestinal permeability.

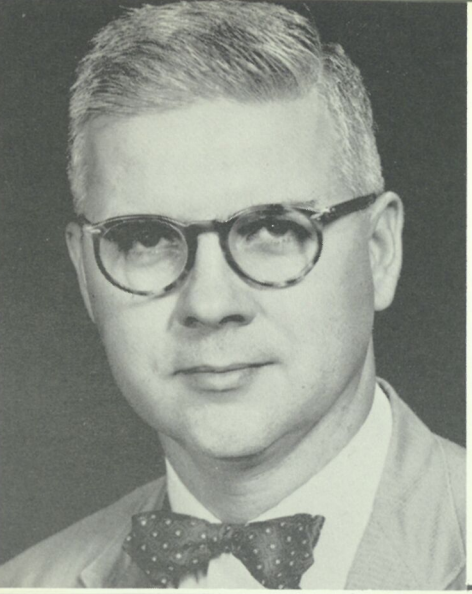


ALVIN A. KRUM, Assistant Professor, Department of Physiology, holds an A.B. and Ph.D. from the University of California and is currently engaged in the study of the origin of tissue cholesterol and steroid hormones.

HOWARD J. BARNHARD, Professor and Chairman, Department of Radiology, trained at the Medical College of South Carolina. He joined the faculty in 1954. He is also a dedicated teacher and an enthusiastic informant regarding various naval problems. His wide variety of research interests range from the effects of irradiation on bone to the application of computers in medicine.

ELENOR POLK DEED, Assistant Professor in Radiology and Head of the Radiotherapy Division. She was graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Medicine and completed her Radiology Residency here in 1960. Her research interests include renal studies using radioactive isotopes and studies involving malignant cells grown in tissue culture.

THOMAS HAROLD ODDIE, Associate Professor of Radiology, in charge of the Radioisotope laboratory, is a graduate of the University of Melbourne, Australia, a Fellow of the institute of Physics, London, Member of the American Thyroid Association and a Member of the Society of Nuclear Medicine. He has been awarded NIH grants for quantitative studies in human thyroid function.

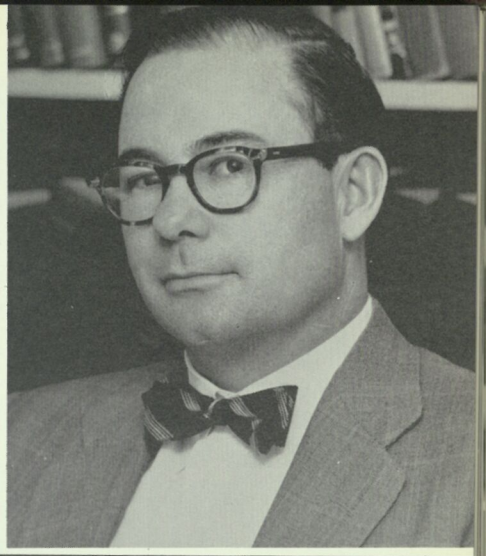


TOM DAVID NORMAN, Professor of Pathology and Head of the Department, is a graduate of Tulane University School of Medicine, with residency training from the University of Tennessee and City of Memphis Hospitals. He is engaged in an exhaustive study of the mechanism of growth and control, and has been awarded grants for the study of cancer and basic growth processes.

JOSEPH SONG, Associate Professor of Pathology with special duties concerning electron microscopy. He is a graduate of the University of Seoul and the University of Tennessee. His special area of research is cancer of the cervix.

ROY DUANE HOKE, Assistant Professor and Deputy State Medical Examiner, is a graduate of Loma Linda University and the Tulane University School of Medicine. He has been with the University for two years.

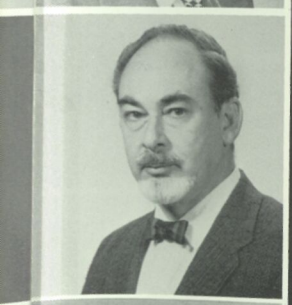
GEORGE ALLEN ATKINSON, Assistant Professor of Pathology, is a graduate of the University of Colorado School of Medicine. He has recently joined the University Staff.



WILLIAM G. REESE, Professor and Head of the Department of Psychiatry, holds a B.S. and M.S. degree from the University of Idaho and an M.D. from Washington University. His residency training was from Johns Hopkins University, and served as an instructor at that school for four years. He is a member of the Academy of Psychoanalysis, a Phi Beta Kappa, A.O.A., and Sigma Xi, to mention just a few of his many organizational activities. He is the recipient or co-recipient of research and training grants at the UAMC totaling over half-million dollars.

ROSCOE A. DYKMAN, Professor Department of Psychiatry, received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and is a former Fellow of Johns Hopkins Hospital. He has received numerous grants.

SAM D. CLEMENTS, Ph.D., Assistant Professor and Director of the Child Guidance and study unit. He is a graduate of the U. of Wichita and the U. of Houston. His primary area is in the field of child guidance.



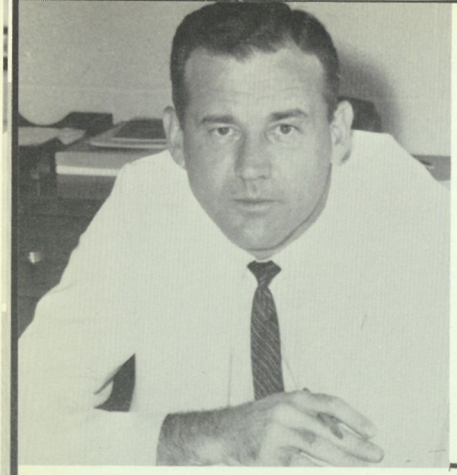
SYDNEY J. FIELDS, Associate Professor of Psychiatry, is a specialist in hypnosis and manages the group therapy sessions. He has been with the University eleven years.

FRED O. HENKER, III, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Chief of the inpatient Psychiatry service is a graduate of the U.A.M.C. He is also engaged in marriage counseling.

RICHARD H. SUNDERMAN, Assistant Professor of Phychiatry, and director of the Adult Psychiatric clinic. He is a graduate of the U. of Nebraska and the Vanderbilt School of Medicine.

ROSEMARY C. PFEIFER, Psychologist, Child Guidance Clinic, engaged in psychological evaluation of children and adolescents is a graduate of Boston College, Boston University.

JOHN M. LONG, Biometry, is a graduate of William & Mary, Michigan State, and the U. of Virginia. He is associate Professor of Biometry and Head of the Department. He was the recipient of an NSF grant in 1962.



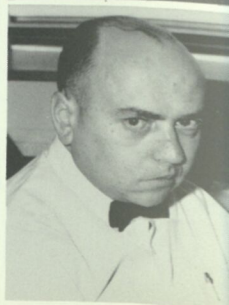
JAMES S. DINNING, Professor and Head of the Biochemistry Department, and assistant Dean of the Graduate School, is currently on leave to Thailand. He received his Ph.D. from Oklahoma State University. He served as Associate Editor, Nutrition Reviews, 1953-58, and Editorial Board, Journal of Nutrition, 1955-59. He received the Lederle Medical Faculty Award in 1955. He is a special consultant, National Institute of Health, Metabolism and Nutrition Study Section. He is author or co-author of some 102 publications.

EZZAT S. YOUNATHAN, Associate Professor of Biochemistry, and acting Head of the Department. He is conducting research on the mechanism of action of diabetogenic compounds. He received his Ph.D. from Florida State University.

J. F. DIEHL, Associate Professor, also associated with the Max Planck Institute for Medical Research, Heidelberg, Germany.

ROBERT L. WIXOM, Associate Professor of Biochemistry, is a member of the American Chemical Society and the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. He has been with the University for eleven years.

THOMAS R. HENDERSON, Research Associate in Biochemistry, has been with the University since 1963. He received his degree from the University of Texas.



HAROLD RESNICK, Instructor of Biochemistry, is studying the fundamental chemistry of collagen tissues in an effort to explain the etiology of the collagen diseases. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa.

SENIOR SCENES AND FAMILIAR FACES

Now that little book on the desk really has some good numbers!

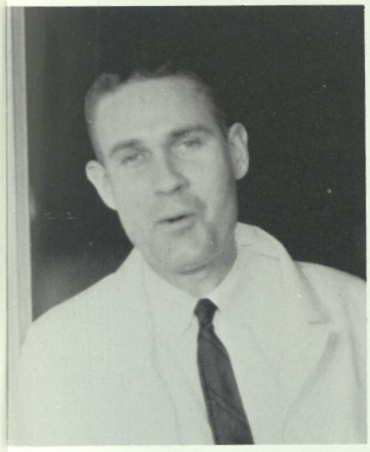
. . . hmmm, that gives you four out of four, I'll never learn tic tac toe.

. . . and then this Staff man told the resident that someone, etc. . . .

See! I told you dill pickle lipstick is sour.

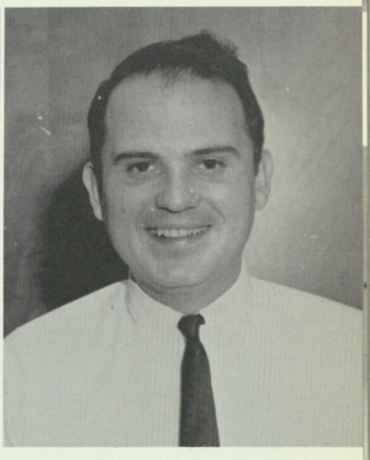
. . . so what if it is a 12 page yearbook!



Now THAT was good beer!

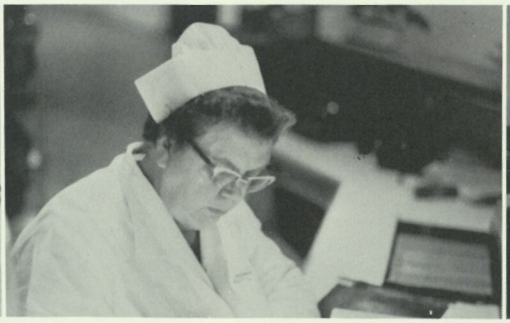
For that you get 5 patients today!

Well then you just go back to the Pede department.

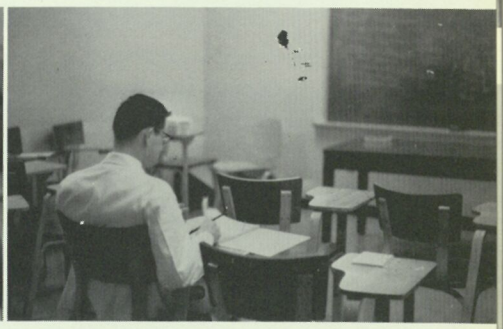


I ain't mad at NOBODY

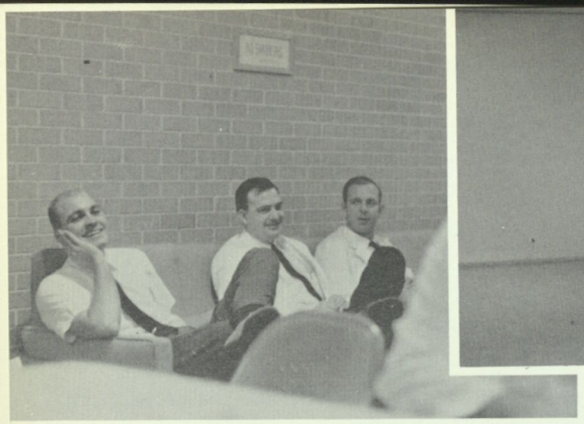
. . . of those flunking, he's the smartest.



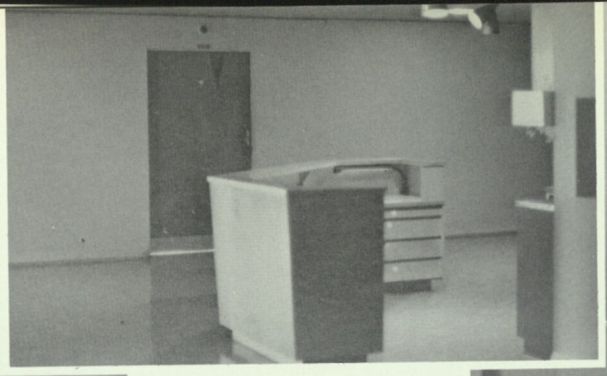
. . . grumble, GRROWLL, snap, snap.



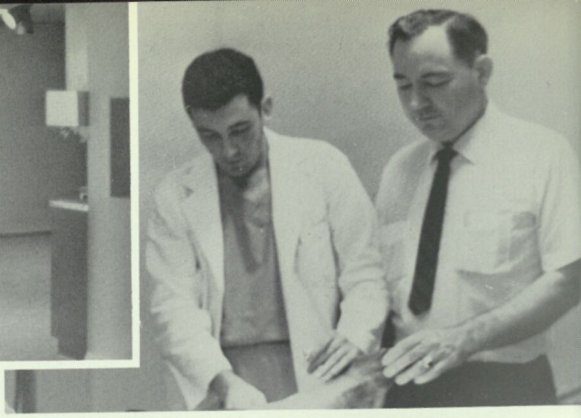
no fair reading about your patient before you present.



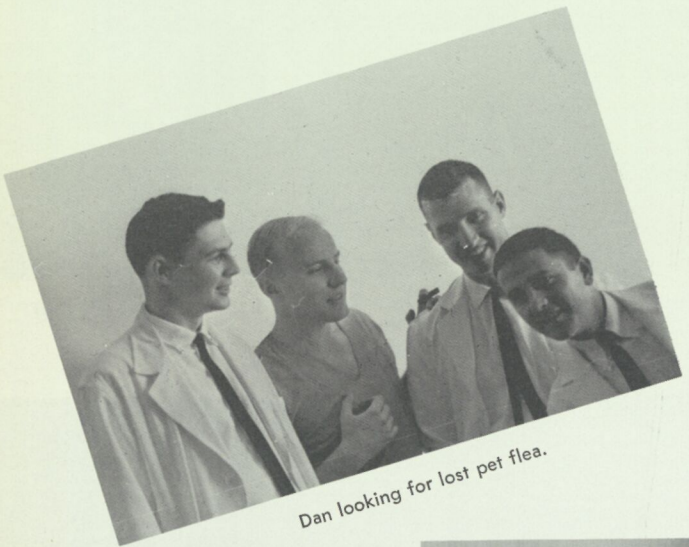
Everyone likes free chow.



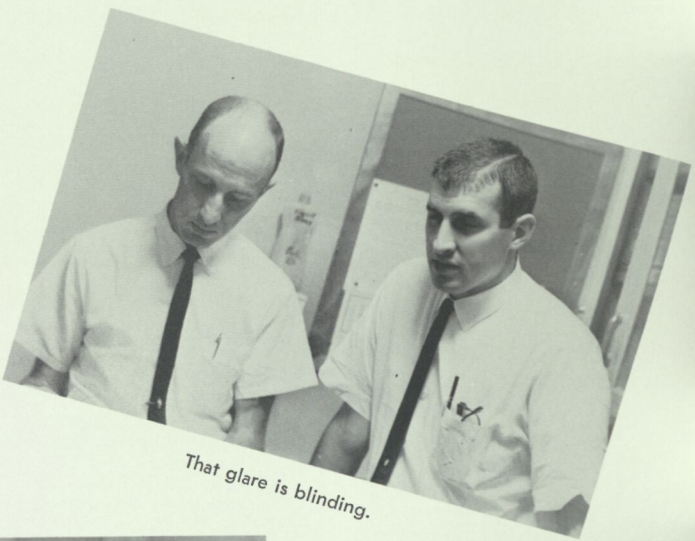
Typical ward scene when Jrs. are on vacation.



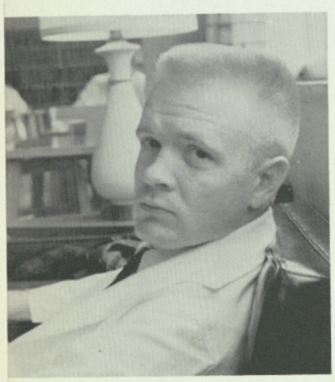
Here, let me hold this humerus out of the way.



Dan looking for lost pet flea.

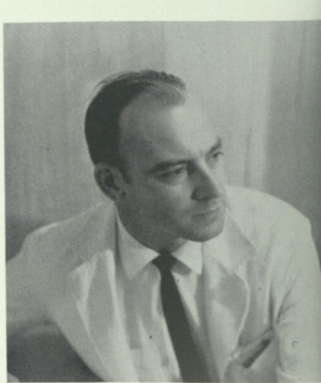


That glare is blinding.

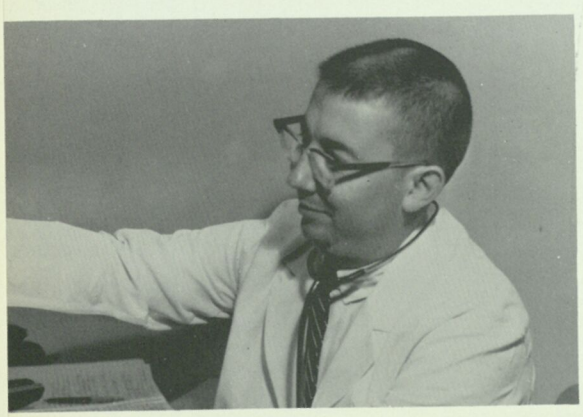


Sez who!

You mean YOU don't know what it's for either?

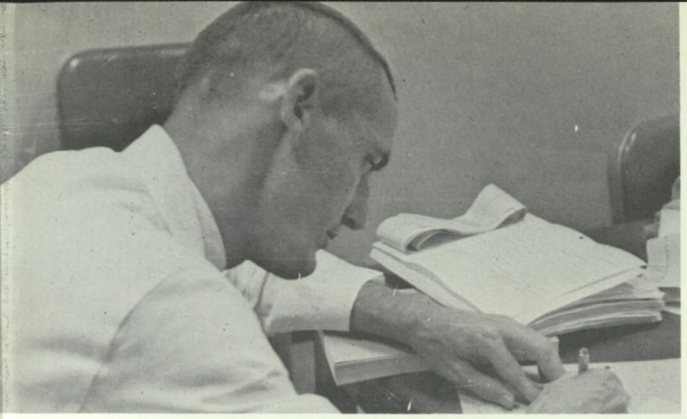


Well! I don't like your affect either.

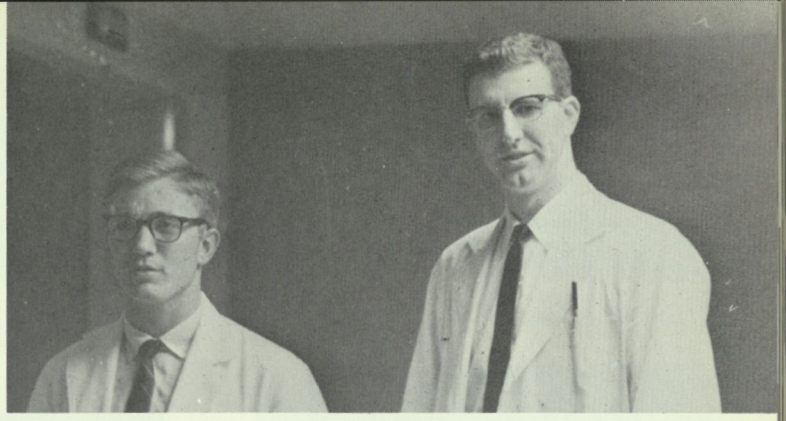


Yes'm, this is where you pay.

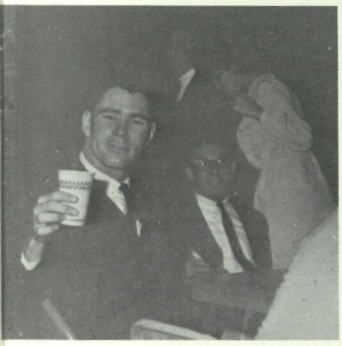
Now what does a thumb mean???



Uhh . . two n' two is four, three and . . .



Psst, Ron, not here on the floor

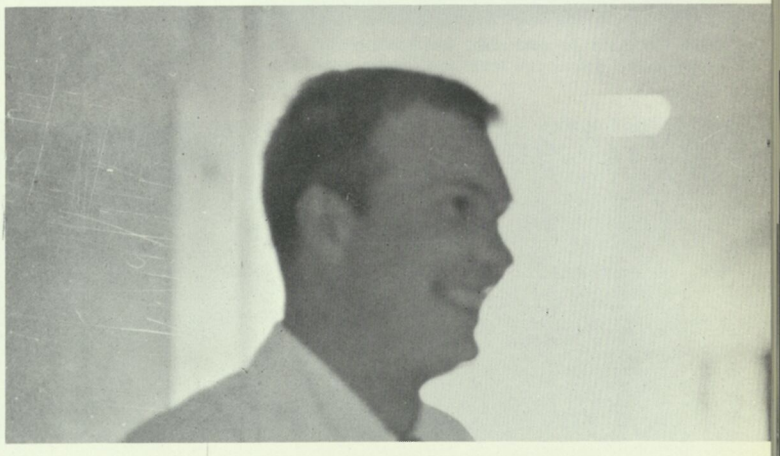


Say "malt liquor" not "ugh!" beer.

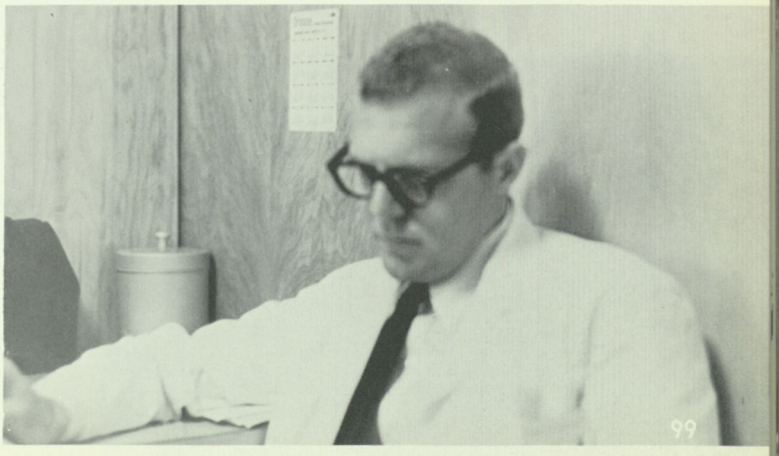
Er, uh, Bill, I don't think that is really pneumonoultramicroscopicvolconoconiosis.

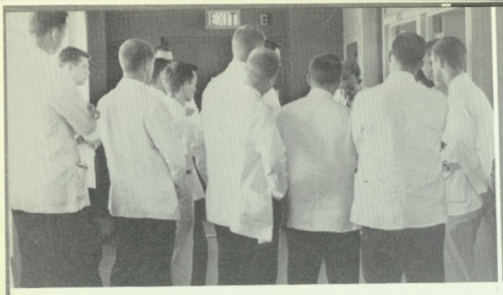
You know that if he wasn't taking my picture I'd belt you.

Terrible Dean goes for his gun; moll scorns camera.

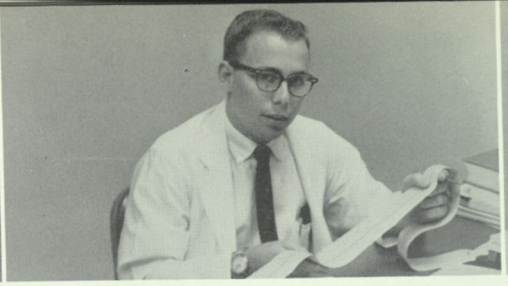


. . . and my group had 98% more absentees.





Quit staring, I can't help it if it won't zip.



"the intrinsicoid, prq, st segment, u wave, qrs, st, ln, abcde . . . . ."

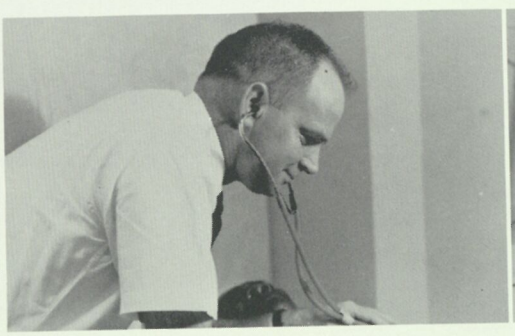
"Marsha, don't you think there is something you should have told me?"

See the ball, Jim has the ball, run, Jim, run.

"Frankly, Hon, not every night in Medical School is like this . . ."

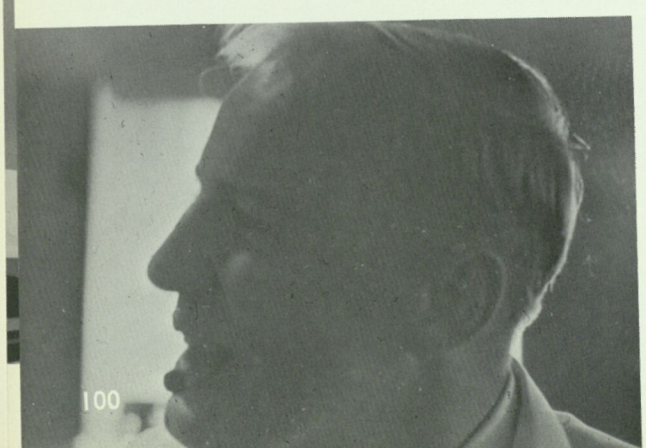
"And I'll drink to you too, Dr. Rosenfeldt."

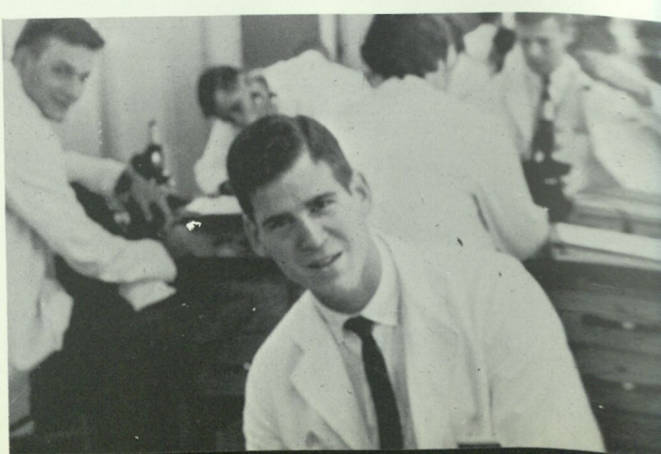
You laugh at my jokes, I'll laugh at yours



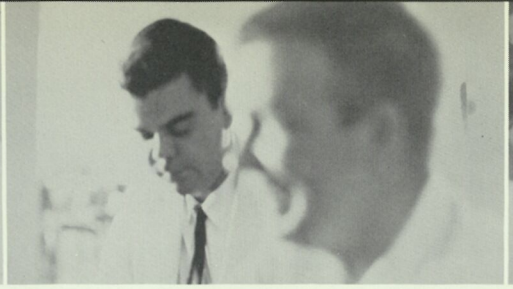
Lub dub, lub dub

And that's how we smashed Ole Miss



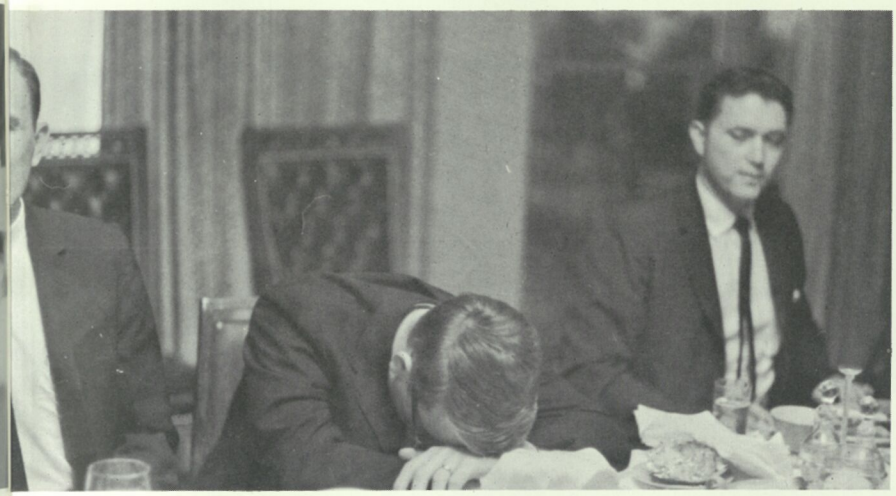


Some guys look only one place.

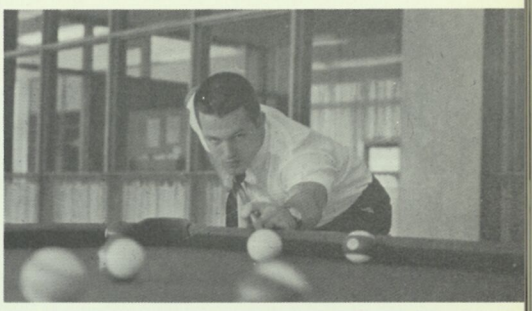


Rare photo of R. M. Finch actually disappearing as a Professor approaches.

... and furthermore, this coffee, etc., etc., ...



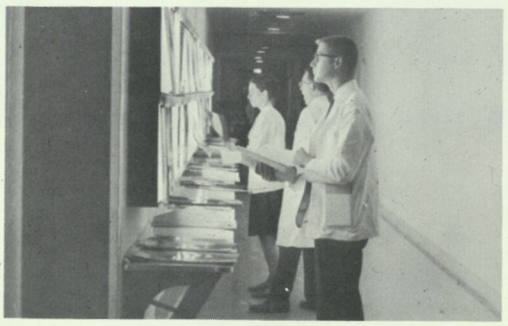
Famous picture of Senior making visit to the Twilight Zone.



Junior Medicine isn't so tough!

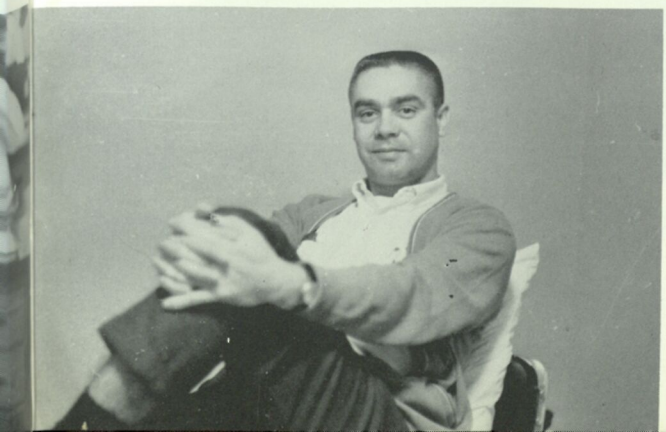
Some lectures are more interesting than others.

Robert expounds on his knowledge of the hemisphere.



Who took THAT picture?

Picture hell! Put that bottle back.



If anyone looks in we're ruined!

And this is the way birds fly . . . I thinsks!

. . . and keep your damned foot to yourself.

Yodeldeoooo, yodel de yodel do ooooooooo. Hic*!

Muh friends call me Big Al

You mean we sat right through grand rounds?

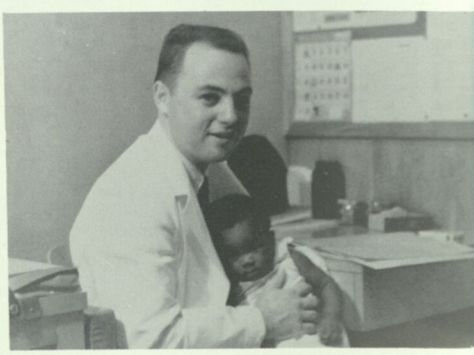
Picture by inebriated picture taker. We lost!

GOOD GRIEF, There's my husband over there!

It was a good party . . . they won't let us come back.

Guess who forgot to wear his trousers this morning?

Why I just think the UAMC is GREAT



Are you sure he had a diaper on?

You couldn't stand up either if you weighed this much!

Some drink . . . some think

Who's supporting whom?

See, Mom, it's nothing but soft drinks!

Well, maybe not all soft drinks.

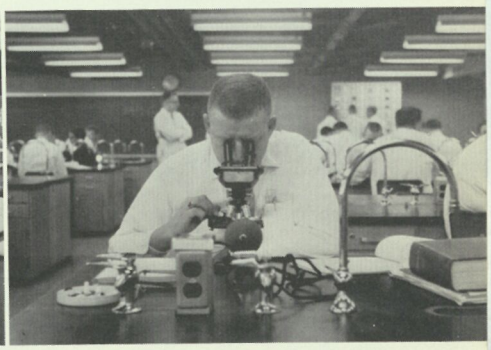
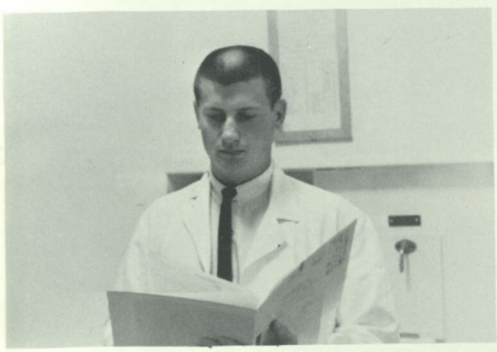
Three empty fifths equal one pickled pathologist.

Whaddaya men you're gonna take MY temperature next??

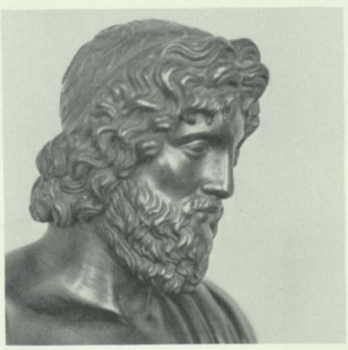
Foster, William F., Finch, R. M., Finch, R. D., etc. . . .



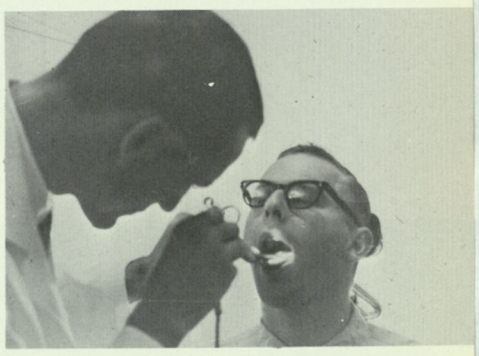
6,789,534, . . . 6,789,535, . . . 6,789,536, . . . etc. . . .



Siieleent Nighhhht, Hoooly Nighht, alll is . . . . . .

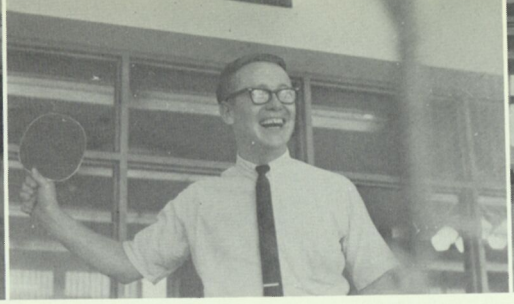


What? Me worry?



Hmmm, just as I suspected, dime store teeth.

Healthy competition enriches friendships .....



and helps develop style and timing ....

unless you are the type that just stands around ....

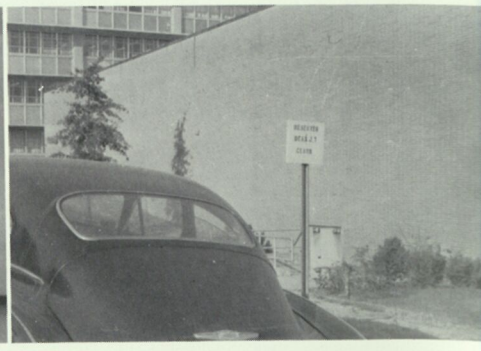
or laugh at and criticize your partner . . .

and a mild degree of disharmony results. To repeat, healthy competition, etc., etc. . . .

then you might wish you hadn't oughta done it .....

Where have we seen that mouth before?

You $''*&%#----&$



No caption needed!

It does taste bad!

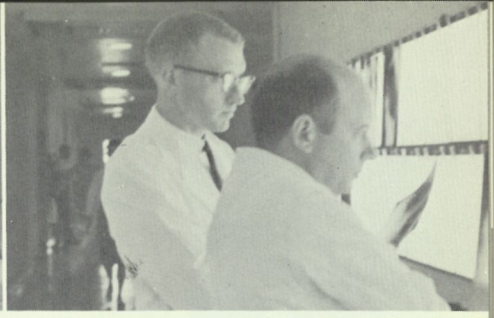
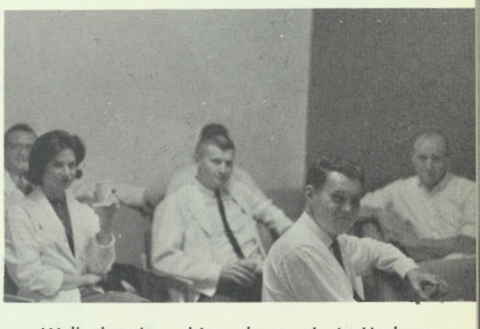
Quick, put your money under the table. .



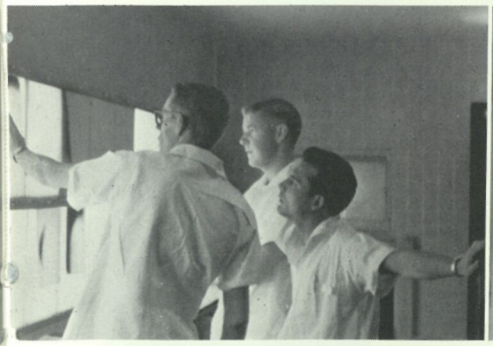
I agree, Playboy does better.

. . . and he said if this wouldn't cure a cold, NOTHING would.

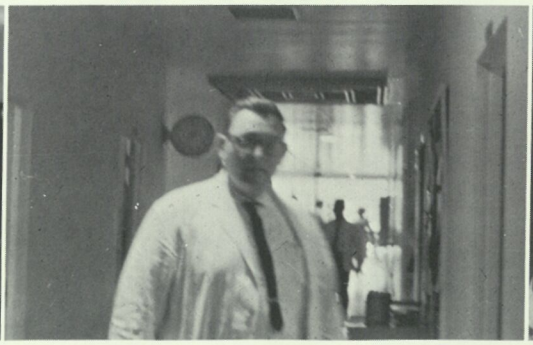


Well, there's nothing else to do in Urology clinic.

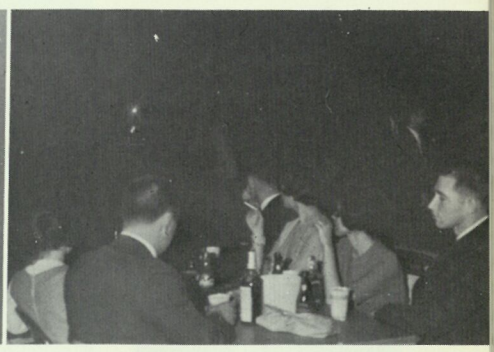
The Clinical Lab isn't ALL bad . . . . . .



. . . but X-Ray tech. is.



And I'm only 14½ years old.



Jrs. sleep when they can.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

THE NIGHTINGALE PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly:

To pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully.

I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

I will do all in my power to elevate the standard of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession.

With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

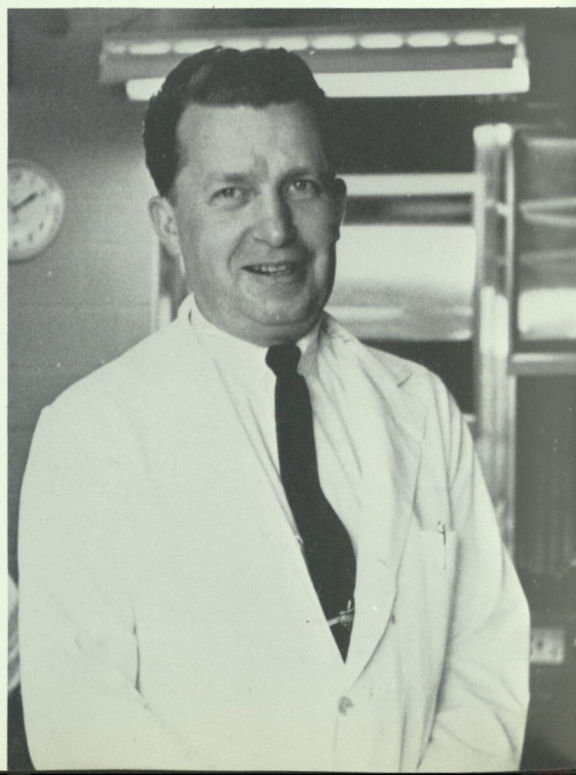
SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

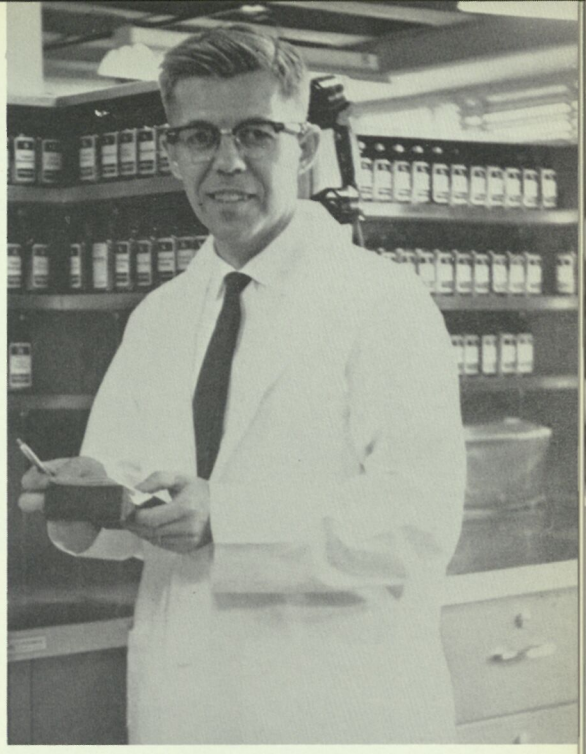
STANLEY G. MITTELSTAEDT, Ph.D.

Dr. Mittelstaedt, Dean of the School of Pharmacy, received his B.A. degree in Education and Science, a B.S. and M.S. from the State College of Washington, and his doctorate from Purdue University in Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry. He is a member of Sigma Xi Society, Rho Chi Society, Kappa Psi Fraternity, Phi Lambda Upsilon Society, and he was listed in "Who's Who in American Education," "Leaders in American Science," "American Men of Science" and "Who's Who in America." Dr. Mittelstaedt has served as Dean of the School of Pharmacy since 1953 and he is a registered licentiate in pharmacy in the states of Washington and Arkansas.

JAMES E. DUSENBERRY, Ph.D.

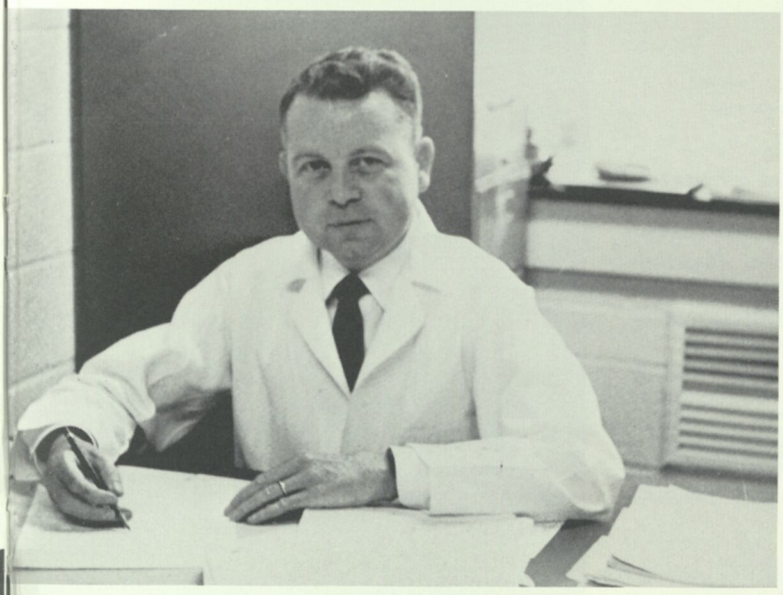
Dr. Dusenberry, Associate Professor and head of the department of Pharmacognosy, received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Nebraska, and his Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut. Those courses in the Pharmacy curriculum for which he is responsible are Pharmacognosy, Pharmaceutical microbiology and an elective in pesticides. Also the school's first graduate student is working under his direction. Dr. Dusenberry's research is in the biosynthesis of lysergic acid derivatives. He is faculty advisor for the Student Body and Rho Chi Honorary Scholastic Society as well as being President of the Pulaski County Pharmaceutical Association.





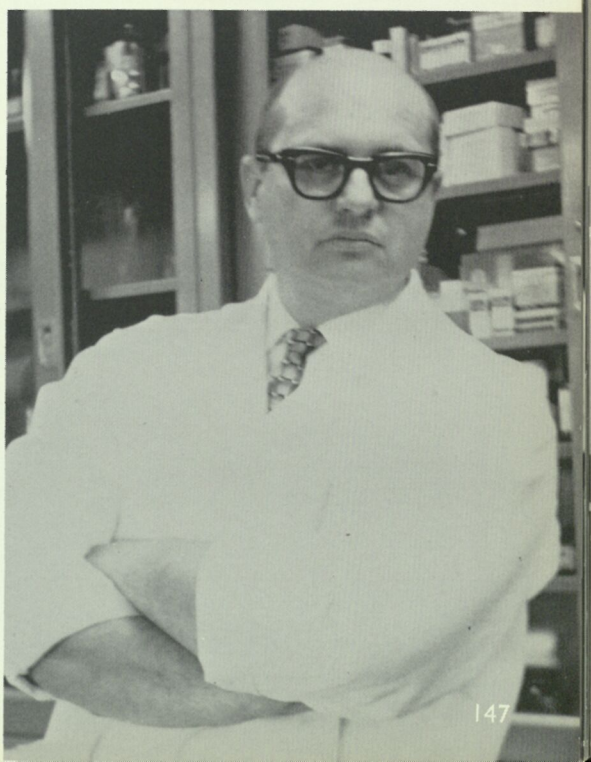
THADDEUS S. GROSICKI, Ph.D.

Dr. T. S. Grosicki, Professor of Pharmacy, teaches Junior and Senior Dispensing and a course in the History of Pharmacy. He did his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan, where he obtained his B.S. in Pharmacy. He holds an M.S. degree from Purdue University and a Ph.D. from the University of Florida. He is a member of Sigma Xi Society, Rho Chi Society, Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity, AAAS, American Institute of the History of Pharmacy, A.Ph.A., and the Arkansas Pharmaceutical Association. Dr. Grosicki has taught at Purdue University, The University of Florida, and the St. Louis College of Pharmacy. He is a registered pharmacist holding licensure in Missouri and Arkansas.



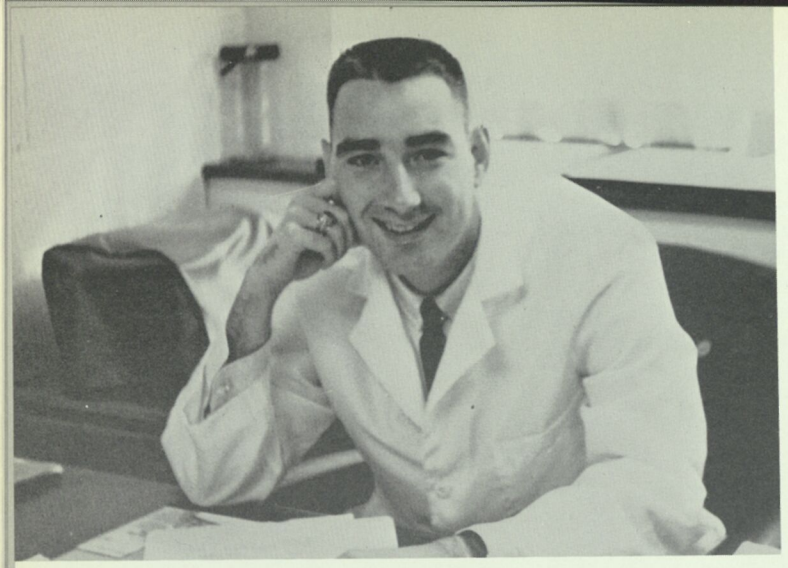
WILLIAM D. EASTERLY, JR., Ph.D.

Dr. Easterly, Associate Professor of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry, is a native of Sheridan, Arkansas and has been associated with the University of Arkansas School of Pharmacy since 1954. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Georgia School of Pharmacy and his doctorate from the University of Florida College of Pharmacy. In addition to his teaching duties, Dr. Easterly is directing research in the synthesis and testing of compounds for anticancer activity.



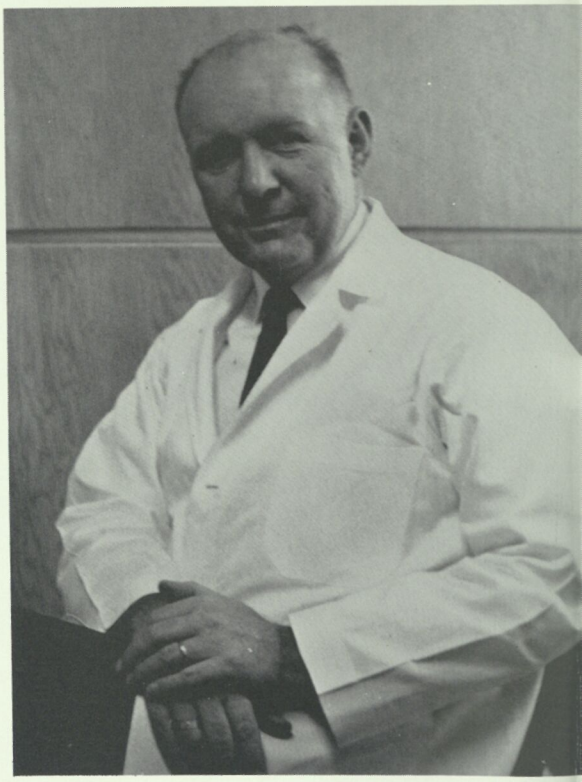
MARCUS W. JORDIN, Ph.D.

Dr. Jordin, Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Pharmacology and Physiology at the School of Pharmacy is a graduate of Idaho State College with a B.S. in Pharmacy. He did graduate work at Purdue University with his M.S. in 1952 and Ph.D. in 1954—majoring in pharmacology. He has been with the University of Arkansas since 1954. Dr. Jordin is a member of the Arkansas Pharmaceutical Association, American Pharmaceutical Association, Sigma Xi Society, Phi Lambda Upsilon, Kappa Psi Fraternity and Rho Chi Society. He is a co-investigator on research grants dealing with pharmacological studies on ergot alkaloids and urea derivatives of bromal and dichloracetaldehyde.



WALTER J. MORRISON, M.S.

Mr. Morrison received his Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy at the University of Arkansas School of Pharmacy in 1960. He earned his M.S. degree at Purdue University and is currently working on the requirements for the Ph.D. degree at this institution. As an Assistant Professor of Pharmacy Administration, he teaches courses in Accounting, Pharmaceutical Law and Ethics, Pharmaceutical Management and Marketing.



WILLIAM A. STRICKLAND, Ph.D.

Dr. Strickland received his B.S. degree from the University of Tennessee, and his M.S. and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. He teaches courses in Physical Pharmacy, Pharmaceutical Technology, Public Health, and Pharmaceutical Calculations. Dr. Strickland's research interests are in the complex formation between sym.-Trinitrobenzene and certain medicinals and in the formulation of Aerosol Products. He is a member of the Arkansas Pharmaceutical Association, American Pharmaceutical Association, AAAS, Metric Association of America, Rho Chi Honorary Society, Sigma Xi Society, and Kappa Psi Fraternity.

A. NELSON VOLDENG, Ph.D.

Dr. Voldeng, assistant professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, received his B.S. at the University of Kansas School of Pharmacy in 1960. After graduate study at the University of Kansas, he was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1964. Dr. Voldeng's research interests are concerned with the chemistry of steroids and alkaloids, and the isolation and structure elucidation of natural products possessing unusual physiological activity.

At hospitals and medical outposts a long way from the classroom, medical students learn to cope with unfamiliar diseases; help to provide much-needed medical services to people in underdeveloped areas of the world; and contribute to international understanding and good will.

This unusual opportunity to work and study in foreign countries is offered to students through the Foreign Fellowships Program of Smith Kline & French Laboratories. Administered by the Association of American Medical Colleges, the program has enabled 123 students to work in 40 different countries during the past four years. Junior and senior medical students are eligible to apply for Fellowships, which provide for an average of 12 weeks' work abroad to be completed before internship.

Students who are interested in Fellowships should apply through the deans of their schools.

Doctor:

One of the little-known virtues of Blue Shield is that it offers each physician an opportunity to do something about the future of medical care in America. Blue Shield challenges every one of you to back up your convictions and to strike a solid blow for medical freedom.

Blue Shield is not — CAN not be — a "spectator sport" for the American physician. True participation in Blue Shield means performance.

What are the specific ingredients of participation? Your first duty is to become informed — to know your own Blue Shield program, to understand its problems, its objectives and its specific policies. You should speak — early and often — about Blue Shield to your patients and friends. You should let the public know what a tremendous social asset it has in Blue Shield, and what a great instrument it can be for the provision of an ever-broader program of medical care prepayment by voluntary effort.

By true participation in such a respected program, you can do more to preserve the private practice of medicine than by any other single effort on the physicians' part.

— Your Arkansas Blue Cross - Blue Shield Plan

Just a Word About Our Professional Planning

Our Planning Department is always glad to offer planning suggestions to you without obligation or expense. Through more efficient planning of your office, you may be able to effect a saving in rent and a consequent reduction in "overhead." By more wisely using the office space available you may be able to change the entire character of your office to such an extent that your clientele and your earnings will be substantially increased. In establishing your new office, it is best to begin with the finest equipment. Fine furniture lasts a lifetime, commands the respect of your patients, and in terms of service years it is cheaper. We make it a part of our business to know where the better locations are. Stover Location Data Service is always available to you.
